

Mennonite Passenger Lists for Brazil

Compiled by Hermann Schirmacher 2020

This is a compilation of thirteen known ships that took Mennonite refugees to Brazil between 1930 and 1934. These approximately 294 families/units make up 1,430 individuals, and form the core of the Mennonite colonization in Brazil. There are other individuals who traveled on ships to Brazil, but they are not listed here. Brazil was sometimes only an initial arrival point in the Americas before continuing on to other destinations. Some families immigrated to Paraguay, while others to Canada. It should be noted that some families initially arrived in Paraguay before continuing on to Brazil. They are also not listed here.

All passengers arrived in Rio de Janeiro for registration and medical inspection and moved further south to Santa Catharina. Some had to stay in quarantine for a period of time, and others were rejected and moved to Paraguay. They all (except the Harbinger group) came from the refugee camps in Germany (Prenzlau, Hammerstein, and Moelln), obtaining their visas in Hamburg. Their nationality was declared as STAATENLOS, stateless. The Harbinger group came from China to Marseille and went by train to Bordeaux before boarding the ship Eubee to Rio de Janeiro.

The most relevant sources I used are from the archives in Brazil, Hamburg, and Bremen. The GRANDMA numbers are most likely the correct numbers, but mistakes are possible. According to my count, about 80% of the original Brazilian refugees show up in Grandma, probably more. Again, this is not including those who moved from Paraguay to Brazil. There is no reliable data on how many we are talking about.

A Sociological Study of the Mennonite Immigrant Communities in Parana, Brazil, done by Herbert Reynolds Minnich, Jr. in 1966 (<https://ufdc.ufl.edu/AA00004943/00001/pdf>, accessed May 11, 2020, page 64) suggests that between 12% and 18% of those in the four main communities in 1965 – Witmarsum, Guarituba, Boqueirao, and Vila Guaira, had an immigration background from Paraguay.

The year in column “born abt / geb um” is usually an estimate based on the age stated for each passenger. In other cases it is from sources when given.
