

Chortitza Mennonite Settlement Census for 1 September 1801

State Archives of Odessa Region (SOAR) Fonds 6, Series 1, File 67

Extracted by Tim Janzen; Comments by Tim Janzen and Richard D. Thiessen

This site makes available various versions of a census of the Chortitza Mennonite Settlement, taken on 1 September 1801. The census was compiled under the direction of Peter Siemens who was oberschulz (superintendent) of the Chortitza settlement at that time and was apparently based on information supplied to him by mayors of each of the 9 villages. The census lists the names and ages of 1,665 residents of the Chortitza settlement as well as statistical data concerning their possessions. The original document was written in German and may be found on frames 1 to 123 of File #67 of the microfilm of selected files from Odessa Archives, Fonds 6, Series 1. Additional detailed statistical data about crop production for each head of household is also found on the microfilm in the second half of File #67 but has not been extracted up to this point.

Researchers should note that "diana" is universally substituted for "Anna" in the original census. As with the 1795 Chortitza Colony census published by B. H. Unruh, stepchildren are designated as such only part of the time and their actual surnames are given only occasionally. Researchers will need to interpret the actual census data found in the tables carefully.

Only one definite error in the ages given in the census has been noted. At Neuendorf #12 Abraham Friesen's wife Anna's age is given as 3 in the census. It likely should have been entered as 30 as her age is given as 30 in the 1802 Neuendorf census published by B. H. Unruh.

If a family had more than one son or daughter, the census consistently listed sons and daughters by preceding each name with "the first son," "the second son," etc. These have been removed from this transcription as they are misleading. A family might have had older sons and daughters who were no longer part of the household, so it isn't accurate to list children as "the first son" or "the third daughter."

Two question marks have been placed in the table of the Chortitza village census data in the columns for the number of cattle at households #2 and #3 where the original document is illegible. In reviewing the economic data it was discovered that whoever did the addition in the original census made 7 errors in the totals listed at the end of each village. Correct totals have been placed in the tables of the census data rather than entering the totals found in the original for these 7 totals. The errors noted are as follows:

Chortitza

327 sheep listed in the original, but this should be 427

Neuenburg

11 harrows listed in the original, but this should be 14

Neuendorf

86 pigs listed in the original, but this should be 96

41 harrows listed in the original, but this should be 39

24 plows listed in the original, but this should be 24 1/2

Rosenthal

50 pigs listed in the original, but this should be 60

436 cattle listed in the original, but this should be 445

It is important to note that the census taken 1 September 1801 included only the families and servants of landowners and thus some people living in the Chortitza settlement at that time who were not landowners were not included in this census. Many, if not almost all, of the people not included in the 1 September 1801 census were listed, however, in a separate listing of single people and families who were not landowners which was compiled on 25 April 1801. This list is found on frames 1-7 of File #92. Some of the people found in the 25 April 1801 listing were also included in the larger 1 September 1801 census. Unfortunately, the ages of the people found in the 25 April 1801 listing are usually not given.
