

Chortitza Mennonite Settlement Vital Records: 1801-1813

State Archives of Odesa Oblast Fund 6 Inventory 1 Files 65, 98, 780

Compiled by Tim Janzen

This site makes available a collection of vital records of births, marriages, and deaths that occurred in the Chortitza Mennonite Settlement during the period 1801 to 1813. These records cover almost all the births, marriages, and deaths that occurred in 1801 and 1802, but only portions of the years 1803, 1806, 1807, and 1813. The vital records found in these files vary in the amount of detail they convey. In general, there is an exact date recorded for the events that occurred in 1802, 1806, 1807, and 1813. However, for events that occurred in 1801 only the month is recorded and for events that occurred during the period January to April 1803 not even the precise month is specified. In some cases, the dates of the events in May, October, and November 1802 were either difficult or impossible to read because the dates were not included on the microfilm of the data. The archivists at the Odessa State Archives reviewed the pages in the original documents for the dates in question and conveyed to me the dates found in those pages.

The original documents were written in German and in the case of the records from 1806 a duplicate copy was written in Russian. The original documents may be found in Files #65, #98 and #870 of the microfilm of selected files from Odessa Archives, Fund 6, Inventory 1. The locations of this data within these files are as follows:

The ages at the time of death are generally given in the death records for those who died in 1802, 1803, 1806, 1807, and 1813 but not for those who died in 1801. This makes the precise identification of the people who died in 1801 more difficult. Fortunately, however, there is summary data in the file that includes the ages of all males who died in each village for both 1801 and 1802. This information is helpful in establishing the true identities of the males who died who died in 1801 as well as for a few men who died in 1802, but for whom no age of at the time of death was recorded. The summary data for 1801 is found in File #65 on frame 77 and the summary data for 1802 is found in File #65 on frames 110 and 111.

I compared the summary data with the death records from 1801 and 1802 and then attempted to match the ages of the men given in the summaries with the names given in the vital records. The following is my reconstruction of the ages given in the summaries matched to the men who died. For reference I have also added the numbers for these men in the GGrandDMA database as well as the issue and page number from Henry Schapansky's articles about the Chortitza Colony in Mennonite Family History so that researchers can know exactly who I believe these men were. If any of you come up with different identities to these people than I have, I would appreciate you letting me know.

- Heinrich Klassen, age 47; Grandma #196382; MFH, July, 1992, p. 115

Note that the age at the time of death for Peter Epp, son of Peter Epp (b. ca 1754) (Grandma #15792) (MFH, July, 1992, p. 114), is apparently not given in the statistics. His age is given as 1/2 of a year in the 1801 census. It seems likely that this young child named Peter Epp who was listed in the census is the Peter Epp who died in Sept., 1801 as listed in the Chortitza Colony vital records. While it is possible that he is the unknown child, age 13 shown above, I can't seem to find a Peter Epp who would have died at age 13.

I have also gone through the 1802 vital records statistics looking for ages that match people who died in 1802 but for whom no age is given in the vital records. It appears that the statistical data is incomplete for some villages as there are a number of people whose age is given in the vital records but for whom no matching age is found in the statistics. I came up with the following matches for 1802:

- Aron Peters, age 57, in Schoenhorst; Grandma #198928; MFH, Oct., 1993, p. 178
- Peter Banman, age 31, in Schoenwiese; Grandma #132864; MFH, Jan., 1997, p. 31
- unknown man, age 45, in Kronsweide; This is probably Heinrich Janzen (b. ca 1756), Grandma #199120; MFH, Apr., 1995, p. 83

I have thus far not been able to find matches for the following men who died in 1802:

- unknown man, age 54, in Chortitza
- unknown man, age 37 1/2, in Schoenhorst
- unknown man, age 20, in Einlage
