File on the report of the Ekaterinoslav office for foreign settlers to re-register the Mennonites from the Chortitza district to the Molotschna district.

Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Office for Foreign Settlers, 1 Department, January 8, 1821, no. 22. With the lists of the newest Mennonites as an attachment.

To the Guardianship Committee for the Colonists in southern Russia.

The 204 Mennonite families (525 male and 528 female persons) who arrived from abroad in 1819 were settled by the Ekaterinoslav office for foreign settlers in the districts of Chortitza and Molotschna (with 10-year privileges from 1820). This was communicated by the Office to the Guardianship Committee together with the lists of names of the Mennonites. We have learned that some of the newest Mennonites have registered in the Chortitza district according to the revision but have settled themselves afterwards on still unpopulated lands. This leads to difficulties, as they do, and for the authorities in their transfer of the registration. The Office therefore asks the Guardianship Committee to explain to the newly arriving Mennonites that they should consider in advance in which of the districts, in Chortitza or in the Molotschna, they want to settle, but once they have decided, they are no longer allowed to move on. The Chortitza District Office has informed us that they should re-register with the Mennonites who are registered in their district after revision, but who have settled in the Molotschna district, but they have not done so to date. The Mennonites, who have settled in the Chortitza colonies, have had a written declaration given to them that they want to remain in these colonies in the future. The District Office of Molotschna is hereby instructed to submit a list of names of the Mennonites who have come to Molotschna from the District of Chortitza to the Office and to register them in their territory.

The list of Mennonites who arrived from abroad in 1819 and settled in the colonies of Chortitza and Molotschna, indicating the number of souls of both sexes, how much property was brought and in which colonies they settled.
